She looked forward to attending Senior Center lunches, where she could visit and catch up with friends, and she never passed up a chance to play cribbage with the guys. At home, she enjoyed putting together puzzles and watching old television reruns and home renovation shows. She also enjoyed crafting with her sisters and close friends, and had a special talent for knitting, often making dishcloths to share with family and friends. She had many furry animals she loved dearly over the years. Above all, Ann cherished time spent with loved ones and always looked forward to family reunions.

“ My Aunt Ann was a steady, stable part of my life. She loved her family, her cats, and her puzzles. Which also happen to be three things I love. I will miss her honesty - there was never any guessing when it came to Aunt Ann. She'd let you know if she thought something was funny, or if she didn't want to do a particular thing. And she was never short on love- both given and received. Whenever I see a cute cat, or start a puzzle, I'll think fondly of Aunt Ann.
