“ I remember the days of growing up with you and your sisters and brothers and your parents and mine were always getting together for something. Even though we were 4th cousins, we never thought about that. We just knew we were family. I appreciate everything you taught me. You treated me more like a little sister and friend. I don't think there wasn't anything i couldn't tell you and have to worry about you judging me. I love you dearly. I will visit your resting place and put peonies there when i can. I love you and will miss being able to chat. I just wish i would of been able to before you were gone. To the kids, losing a mother is the most awful thing we will ever go through. It tears your heart out but the one thing that we have is being able to talk to her when we are alone in a quiet place and seeing little signs knowing she is still around watching over us. I love you all.
