“ I will treasure our many talks. Mae was so street smart and ahead of her time when it came to relationships. She would always tell it like it was - whether you wanted to hear it or not. That was Mae and I loved her and respected her.

I didn't get to see her as much as I wanted to the last few years due to the miles between us but that didn't stop the many, many times we talked on the phone. We would talk about everything -- or nothing. I learned a lot from Mae and will miss her.
