“ my gosh i have known "Joshy poo" as I called him... for almost ever it seems-- he knew Kristopher before me, and I met him almost 20 years ago...? Just know, because there is so much to say, but nothing almost at all with the "I cannot believe this is happening" that he was a superstar in my eyes... always funny, always something "smart" to say... I can still hear his voice, and cannot thank him and Albertina enough for taking care of Kristopher when he needed it-- I wish I had more money, I would plant trees and give gifts... all of it! he will certainly be missed here on earth-- as though, I am certain that he has other jobs to do on the other side. I am as well certain that he is with mom and Bill, hopefully he will say some hellos for me over there... hugs to the family, again I wish there was more I could do to honor my friend but I know he knows I mean well on the broke side of life... candles have been lit from day one knowing he wasn't well- much love from Oregon Lizzard
