“ My prayers go out to family and and friends. Aunt Lillian was an inspiration to me to learn more about our Native American culture. I was so proud when she was asked to make a blueberry basket for the National Museum of the American Indian in DC to have on display, and at the Smithsonian. And whenever I visit the casino with friends I show them the display of her work. I really admired her talents. She was such a fighter as I look back at all she faced with her health. I can only pray that I have as much courage as her. I will miss her dearly.
