“ My deepest sympathies to you Jason and Lois's family. My memories of her go back to when she was a legal secretary for the law firm above FNB. I worked downstairs in the loan dept. for Ed Reavie. We had a lot of fun bantering over the years....She was witty and fun and loved her family. Once she retired, I never saw her much but always had the greatest respect for her and she could brighten your day with one of her witty jabs. She always brought a smile to my face. “ My wonderful sister Lois. Oh how I will miss you. I'm remembering the days of our youth. Your great wit and companionship. How many times you were there for me when I needed understanding and support in tough times. I will never forget the fun we had together, laughing at ourselves...and others at times. Your silly nicknames Luigi, and others. I will miss you, but I will never stop loving you! I know you are at peace now. Your loving sister LaVerne
