“ I miss our mornings together the most. We would drink coffee and have the best conversations and watch talk shows and the news.

I loved that she knew all of the cadreau slang.

She was always down for an adventure like the mystery spot or the winery we found when we took a wrong turn going to Gaylord. All of the birthdays her and Emily celebrated together. I could go on forever. She truly is the nicest most loving person. Being her niece is truly a blessing.
