“ Tug was one special person! I first met him at the Salvation Army when he was working there, he did so much volunteer work and went over and above as his heart was pure as gold. I will always remember him for the woodwork he did, the cupboards he made are still in use there, his guitar playing and singing, and his wonderful sense of humor. He taught my daughter how to play guitar, played and sang at church. My kids thought the world of him, an endearing friend to all ages, helping wherever he saw a need. He brought us several cakes over the years for birthdays and graduations, a wonderful cook. My husband and I reconnected with Tug at the hospital infusion room, those two guys had everyone one around them in stitches with the jokes, Tug could go nonstop with the antidotes, couldn't he? I am thrilled to have the assurance that Tug is in heaven, no longer suffering and enjoying the rewards he so dutifully earned. He will truly leave a void with us here on earth. Phyllis, we are sorry for your loss. Our Lord has such comforting arms during times like this, rest in them and know you are loved. We are praying for you. Larry and Myrna Campbell, (the angel lady) Jennifer, Lillian, and William “ Tug as I knew him was a special friend back in high school in '65-'66. I worked for a service station and would loan him my '57 chevy 'till I got off work when he would pick me up and look for girls. It saddens me to hear of his passing. I talked with him last year on the phone and said I was coming up there in May. A true friend that I will miss deeply.
