“ Paul and his siblings grew up on Basil and Mary’s farm which was directly north of my family’s farm. For several years Paul literally was my dad’s right man helping manage our working farm. Paul was like an older big brother for me. He was always cheerful and very conscientious and kind mentoring me in the never ending farm chores and tasks. I also fondly remember the winter fox hunts with Paul and his father and brothers. I am indeed privileged to have known Paul. My deepest condolences to Shirley and family.
